7:07 welcome by Ross to official business meeting

Roberts Rules of Order will be followed

Roll call: 7 in attendance:

Ross/Cristina/Joe - Summit

Kathy Brooks -Franklin

Michele -Cuyahoga

Michael – Adams

Michele motions to open old business; Cristina seconds

Michele reads 12/20/22 minutes; all vote to approve

Treasury update: Michael states there have been no new emails

Ross states the website will be launched as a prototype; we need to vote on website as is once it's launched; there are policy changes that will appear on the site so we need to review and vote/approve data on the site as soon as possible after it's launched;

Cristina suggests an emergency vote to accept the content of the website

Ross started recording meeting at 7:27

Kat joins at this point in the meeting;

Cristina recaps the website info for Kat; also states webmaster has to ensure real time editing can be done by assembly so changes can be made during the approval process if necessary;

Ross mentions that Charley will post from Google docs; the intent is for all to read the documents on the site PRIOR to the vote,

Cristina mentions we still need a bailiff; the bylaws give a sparse description of bailiff, which appears to be taking roll and maintaining order

7:33 Kat motions to close old business; Cristina seconds

Michael motions to open new business; Cristina seconds

Cristina states AFR led OSJA to help Florida spin up an assembly; Cristina volunteered to help Florida, who has realized OSJA, not the AFR, will/can help them meet their goals;
Cristina reminds us that we wouldn't be where we are with our bilateral social compact without the AFR; AL, FL, & GA got settlement packages

Cristina states we can't be told by another organization that we have to do it their way; Ohio never ratified under Washington DC to be a state under legal codes/statutes; although our OSJA site is a prototype, the intent is not for other states to just do it the exact same way Ohio is doing it;

Ross states we are in a stall period because the website process is very time-consuming;

Ross states that we had a static site, but we need and are moving to a dynamic site;

Discussion was had about website history – how it started and where we are now;

7:59 Kat motions to close new business; Cristina seconds

Cristina motions to adjourn meeting; Ross seconds

Next meeting is Tuesday January 3, 2023
