United States v. Williams (90-1972), 504 U.S. 36 (1992).

Opinion (Scalia)

Because the grand jury is an institution separate from the courts, over whose functioning the courts do not preside, we think it clear that, as a general matter at least, no such "supervisory" judicial authority exists, and that the disclosure rule applied here exceeded the Tenth Circuit's authority

20:18:36 From Michael T phone to Everyone:

Ross do we want to stop the recording and restart it? I would like this part recorded also

20:27:03 From Ross Marley - Laptop to Everyone:

I did not stop it. So we will let it roll.

20:29:26 From Ross Marley - Laptop to Everyone:

Adrienne, that seems like a good idea. I prefer to bring it up in the meeting next week to get the Assembly's opinion.. Perhaps a vote... Save the Chat for now, and we will continue this next week.
